Dear Parents/Guardians,

A Formal Talk on Parent Education
Organised by Sham Shui Po Government Primary School

Dear parents,

When it comes to children's growth, we often associate it with negative labels such as the "rebellious period" or the "rebellious stage." However, in the world of children's psychological development, their behavioral patterns are simply a reflection of their internal needs. As parents, if we can respond appropriately, it will greatly help our children strengthen their positive character and develop a positive outlook on life.

Based on psychological research, the childhood stage is a golden period for cultivating positive character for children. By understanding children's psychological development, brain development, and cognitive development, we can help children turn their everyday behaviors into habits, which will then shape their rich and positive character throughout life.

A formal talk titled "Keys to Cultivating Positive Character in Children" for parents will be held by Sham Shui Po Government Primary School. We are honored to have Mr. Leung Tat-Man, Director of the Positive Parenting Academy, as the keynote speaker. He will delve into the golden keys to children's brain development and character building, effective methods to consolidate the development of their character, and the roles and responsibilities of parents during the growth stage. As a father, Mr. Tat-Man has lots of experiences hosting talks of relevant topics. Parents are requested to cherish this rare opportunity of learning and actively participate in the talk. The details are given as follows:
